PPPPPPPPPP Numb. 5924

The Daily Courant.

Saturday, October 15. 1720.

Madrid, September 25.

THE Marquess of Solre sets out this Day for Paris, and from thence to the Congress at Cambray. It is not yet certain if the Marquess de Maulevrier will be sent from France to reside at this Court. Don Lewis d'Acunha waits the arrival of an Express from Lisbon before he sets out for the Congress at Cambray: There seems at present to be a perfect Harmony between the two Courts of Spain and Portugal. We have received Advice that the Marquess de Leda arrived at Cadiz on the 16th Instant, and that he did not find Matters there in so great a Forwardness for the intended Expedition as he expected: That there was not a sufficient Number of Transport-Ships, and that even such as were already in the Bay of Cadiz were so indifferently provided with Necessaries he could not judge proper to imbark the King's Forces in some time yet; but all imaginable Diligence was used to get every thing ready as soon as possible. A Manifesto will soon be published in Justification of this intended Expedition. The Court goes To-morrow to Balsain. On the 12th Instant there arrived at Cadiz five Transport-Ships with about 500 Men. They write from Malaga, that a large Algerine Corsair had been driven by a violent Storm and wrecked on that Coast; the Captain, who is a Venetian Renegado, had saved himself on Shore with his Crew, to the Number of 130 Men, who were all made Prisoners by the Country-People, and carried to Malaga.

Rome, Sept. 28. General Wallis arrived here on the 24th Instant; the next Day he was introduced to the Pope, and had the Honour to kiss the Feet of his Holiness, who received him with great Marks of Distinction. This General went afterwards to wait upon Cardinal del Giudice, with whom he had a long Conference. The same Day he was magnificently treated with several other Persons of Quality, by Cardinal Althan, and is now set out for Vienna. Cardinal Scotti and the Chief Architect have been at St. Paul's Gate to view the Ground thereabouts, the Pope having a Mind to build a Piazza from that Gate to the Church, for the Conveniency of the Pilgrims who will repair hither next Year to visit this Church, and [illegible] in the Devotions usually performed upon [illegible]'s Day. On the 26th Instant an Express arrived here in six Days from Vienna, to [illegible] place he had been dispatched by the Pope [illegible] carry to the Emperour a Nomination for [illegible] rimaldi, who is at present in Poland, to be [illegible] at the Imperial Court, with which Nomination the Emperour is well satisfied. The same Day [illegible] the Congregation de propaganda Fide was held [illegible] Cardinal Sacripanti's House. A second Edict [illegible] published, forbidding all Commerce with [illegible] Islands of Baleares, on Suspicion of their [illegible] infected. A solemn Service was performed [illegible] Morning at the Quirinal, being the Anniversary of the Death of Pope Innocent XII.

Brussels, Oct. 14. On the 10th [illegible] in the Evening, his Excellency the Marquess [illegible]rié arrived here in perfect Health from Aix la Chapelle. Several Persons of Quality and Distinction went out of this City to meet him. A Detachment of Dragoons was ordered to attend him, and at his Entrance in this City, he was receiv'd by a triple Discharge of all the Artillery from our Ramparts. The next Day his Excellency gave publick Audience to all the Nobility, who congratulated him on his happy Arrival. On the 12th Instant, an extraordinary Council of State was held at the Palace, in which his Excellency declared his Imperial Majesty's Orders for obliging all Passengers to perform Quarantain who shall hereafter come from France; whereupon the Regency will soon appoint convenient Places for that purpose on our Frontiers, and will give out necessary Orders relating to a strict Quarantain. Some Days ago Cardinal le Bossu set out suddenly from hence; 'tis reported here that he is gone to Paris, to confer with Cardinal de Noailles upon the Affair of the Constitution; but it seems more likely, that the Marriage of his Brother the Prince of Chimai, was the real Motive for his leaving this Place. The Estates of Brabant were assembled Yesterday and to Day, to deliberate on a Propositon made to them for granting a new Subsidy for the Service of his Imperial Majesty.

Paris, Oct. 19. 'The Cardinal de Noailles 'persists to refuse publishing his Mandement and 'his Corps de Doctrine concerning the Pope's Con'stitution, alledging, That what was done last 'Month in the Great Council, is not conformable 'to the Terms of the Accommodation which his 'Eminency had signed. This Prelate is retired to 'the Mount Valerien, to perform his Devotions ac'cording to his Custom. The Cardinal of Alsatia, 'who arrived here lately, is preparing to set out 'shortly for Rome, and the Cardinal de Rohan 'went some Days ago to his Country House of Sa'vern, whence he is expected back here in a 'Month's Time, to assist at the Conferences which 'are frequently held for perfecting the Affair of 'the Accommodation about the Pope's Constitu'tion. A Reconciliation is much talked of here 'between the Court and the Parliament, and it is 'said, that the Chancellour M. D'Aguisseau uses 'his utmost Endeavours to bring it to bear. 'There is a particular Chamber of Justice erected 'in the Chancery, to judge all summary Processes, 'and consists of 6 Councellours of State, and as 'many Masters of Requests. Some Advices 'from Marseilles give very melancholly Accounts 'in Relation to the Plague, which continues to 'carry off a great Number of People; others say, 'that it is something diminished, which is at'tributed to their having fired a great Number of 'Cannon in order to purify the Air. It is given out, 'this Distemper has reached the Suburbs of Avignon, 'as likewise Apt, and St. Tulle. In pursuance of the 'late Arrêt for recoyning the Money, People have 'begun to carry the old Species to the Mint, toge'ther with one Third in Bank Notes, for which 'they receive new Species of the same intrinsick 'Value with their old, but of one Third higher 'Denomination. The Actions of the India Company are fallen conſiderably, upon a Surmiſe, that the General Farms of the King's Revenues together with other Grants, were to be taken away from that Company.

At the Archimides in Ludgate-ſtreet, Lon-don, having by long Experience obſerved that abundance of Peoples Sight is ſpoiled by uſing falſe Spectacles ſold by Toymen and other ignorant Perſons. To prevent which, he doth ſet the Age on the Frame, for every one to know the Sight they wear; for it often happens, that a Perſon of 30 takes Spectacles of 60 or 70, to the ſpoiling of their Sight, whereas if the Age had been known by the Buyer, he would not have uſed them. By the uſe of true Spectacles the Sight is much preſerved, ſo that many Perſons of 60 or 70 Years of Age, can on occaſion read without them.
